

when, if the Sinn Féin members have not taken the oath of allegiance, the King will appoint a legislative assembly to take over its duties.

It is possible the Belfast results will be known to-night, but the others will not be in for several days. There are fifty-three polling divisions with 388 polling stations in Belfast alone.

It is estimated that 90 per cent. of the voters of Belfast went to the polls, and that the Nationalists and Sinn Féiners in the western division, where Joseph Devlin, Nationalist member of the British House of Commons for Belfast, is running with one Nationalist and two Sinn Féiners, will poll as high as 98 per cent. of the vote.

BELFAST, Ireland, May 25 (Associated Press).—Wholesale charges of intimidation and personation during the balloting in Ulster for members of the new northern Irish Parliament are being made by both the Nationalists and the Unionists.

A Nationalist newspaper cites dozens of incidents with names, in which it declares Nationalist voters in Ballymacarrett, across the River Lagan from Belfast, were beaten on their way to the polls after voting, thus preventing others from attempting to cast votes. The Unionists make similar claims.

As reports come in from the provinces the number of cases in which children voted yesterday increases, but there was only one which matched that of the child who was one-half year old and voted for Moore, a candidate in South Belfast. That was the case of a girl just under three years who cast her vote for J. M. Varbour, Unionist candidate in Antrim, who is well known in the United States.

In the last elections a family of eight children ranging from sixteen years downward exercised the franchise. It is easy for children's names to get on lists on which all persons of voting age automatically are placed, and there they remain until the revision which occurs in July of this year, when they can be objected to. Meanwhile they are fully entitled to vote.

If a parent dies, the child, bearing the same name, may vote. Often it happens that a member of a family, misunderstanding the election law, who is canvassing his district before the voters' lists are made up, gives the names of the whole family as "eligible," not understanding that eligible means. When the lists are made over by the registrar some names not entitled to be there are overlooked and remain.

DESTROY WHISKEY MADE BY SIR J. CRAIG

Sinn Féiners Throw Overboard Twenty Cases Brought From Glasgow.

DUBLIN, May 25.—One of the latest manifestations of Sinn Féin opposition to Belfast whiskey. Last evening six men entered the British-Irish Steam Packet Company's bonded stores and sacked twenty cases of whiskey from Glasgow and emptied their contents into the water.

As no official prohibition has been placed on Scotch whiskey by the Irish Republican Parliament, it is presumed here that the matter has been left to Glasgow consignment covered whiskey from Belfast, where Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier designate, is the director of the principal distillery.

SENTENCED 3 TO DIE; ONE TO LIFE TERM

Justice Van Sicken Refuses to Show Leniency to One Murderer Who Blamed Woman.

Justice Van Sicken, in Brooklyn Supreme Court, today sentenced three men to die in the electric chair the week of July 3, and imposed a life sentence on another.

Those who received the death penalty were: Giuseppe Florina, 25, No. 137 Columbia Street; Alberto Anastasio, 19, Providence, R. I., both convicted of the murder of George Torelli at Columbia Street near Union Street, Brooklyn, May 16, 1920; and Angelo Tamborino, 17, No. 41 Carroll Street, Brooklyn, accused of the murder of Louis Balsano, a shoe store proprietor, at 45th Street and Third Avenue, Brooklyn.

Florina made a plea for leniency through an interpreter. He blamed his troubles on a woman in Providence, R. I., who, he said, wanted him to desert his wife and threatened to get him twenty years if he did not. Tamborino, twenty years, she has got the life," Florina exclaimed.

The Justice said his duty was to render sentence.

The others sentenced to death did not get any life sentence for grand larceny in the fourth degree.

BOY OF 8 KILLED IN MOTHER'S SIGHT

George Daines, Who Helped Support His Family, Run Down by Street Car.

George Daines, eight, was killed today while crossing Prospect Park West, between Prospect and Windsor Parks, Brooklyn. His mother, a widow, keeps a small candy store at No. 271 and the boy was sent across the street for breakfast. It was late and children were already on their way to the Holy Name School, which he attended.

He was behind a south-bound car of the Union Street line and was run down by a north-bound one-man car. Arthur Helms, the motorman and conductor, picked him up and an automobile carried him to the Fifth Street Police Station. There an ambulance surgeon said the child had been killed instantly.

Among those who gathered at the accident was Mrs. Daines, who gave a cry and collapsed.

Helms was discharged in court.

NO PRISON TERMS FOR NEW BATCH OF GUILTY BUILDERS IN OFFICIAL DUTIES

All Sentenced to Fines Less Than Inflicted Before by Justice Vernon M. Davis.

ASSAILS HIS CRITICS.

Says He Is Uninfluenced by Demand for Jail Punishment as All Pledged Guilty.

Justice Vernon M. Davis in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court today imposed fines upon nine individuals of the Brooklyn and Queens Branch of the Association of Dealers in Maces and Building Material of Greater New York. One member of the New York Branch and nine corporations of Brooklyn and Queens were also fined. Through their attorneys the individuals all had pleaded guilty to violation of the Donnelly Anti-Trust Law and the Conspiracy Law. Both are misdemeanors.

The individuals and the fines imposed are:

James A. Ames, fifty-six, member of the New York Branch, No. 2611 Sedgewick Avenue, Bronx, $450.

Andrew Bralton, forty-six, member of Bralton & Co., No. 1901 Hillside Avenue, Richmond Hill, $450.

John Wilson, sixty-one, No. 456 14th Street, Brooklyn, $300.

Cornelius McGuire, fifty, No. 386 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, President of the Brooklyn Branch, $450.

Audley Clarke, fifty-eight, No. 11 Schermerhorn Street, Brooklyn, $450.

Frank D. Creamer, thirty-seven, Belmont Apartments, Manhattan, $400.

Stephen V. Duffy, forty-four, No. 446 75th Street, Brooklyn, $450.

Francis V. Duffy, No. 433 75th Street, Brooklyn, $450.

Maillard M. Canda, sixty, Garden City, $450.

Walter C. Howe, forty-nine, No. 128 Milton Street, Brooklyn, $300, making a total of $4,150 assessed against individuals. The court then announced the corporation fines as follows:

H. W. Bell & Co., $500; Bralton Co., $2,000; Brooklyn Building Supply Co., $2,500; Burroughs Building Material Co., $2,500; Audley Clarke Co., $2,500; Frank D. Creamer Co., Inc., $2,500; J. F. Duffy Co., $4,000; G. B. Raymond & Co., $1,000, and the Gustave Rader Co., $1,000.

Justice Davis before imposing sentence said in part:

"The law leaves it to the discretion of the presiding Justice, who may either impose a fine or imprisonment, or both, and the court now proposes to impose the sentence which it conscientiously believes ought to be imposed, uninfluenced absolutely by the private interests of those who would like to see some other sentence imposed and notwithstanding the public effort made by certain individuals, improperly and unlawfully, to influence the decision of the court in these sentences while the court had them under consideration."

"As in the other cases which were disposed of by the court, these defendants had submitted evidence of good character. They have pleaded guilty, as I have said, which entitles them to great consideration under the practice and precedents of this court. I have made a thorough examination of the accounts submitted to me."

"There is absolutely no evidence before this court that in carrying on this illegal combination anybody was coerced or threatened as a means of compulsion."

"These considerations being before the court, I am impelled to the conclusion that it is not necessary to submit these defendants to the degradation of a prison sentence."

The fines for individuals ran $50 each under the previous amounts assessed in such cases.

The total of the fines for individuals today amounted to $4,150 and of those against corporations $21,000, or $25,150 in all. Previous fines brought the total up to $29,150.

Special Deputy Attorney General asked for the dismissal of the following indictments: Harry W. Bell, John J. Bell, William A. Schmitt, Albert Schwartz, John Breslin, John W. Gaylor, John Cullisbank, Benjamin A. Clarke, Byron D. Creamer, John H. Duffy, George B. Raymond, A. Alexander Edelman, John B. Rose, Amos Transfer.

He filed with the court an individual recommendation in each case signed by Timothy D. Hoeller, special counsel to the Attorney General, and approved by the Deputy Attorney General and concurred in by himself.

Justice Davis intimated that he had no doubt he would follow the recommendations made but would look over the cases and give his decision later.

UNTERMYER SCORES SWANN FOR FAILING IN OFFICIAL DUTIES

Blames District Attorney for Present Condition in the Housing Situation.

TILE MEN'S HARD GRIP.

Association's "Code of Practice" Held Nation's Builders Rigidly in Its Control.

After a fiery attack on District Attorney Swann had been put on the record of the Lockwood Committee on Housing today by Samuel Untermyer of counsel, proof was produced that the contractors for tiling and mantel construction have a nation-wide grip on their trade.

Acting District Attorney Banton, who occasioned the attack by Mr. Untermyer, appeared at the committee hearing late this afternoon. He sought to correct Mr. Untermyer's impression that the interview to which he took exception was intended to be critical of the committee or the results it had obtained. He told Mr. Untermyer he had no such intention in mind.

Mr. Untermyer did not withdraw his remarks about Mr. Swann.

There is a very short supply of labor in the industry and there are practically no non-union tile layers. The Tile and Contractors' Association of America has an iron-clad agreement with the Bricklayers' International Union to employ none except its members. The union, on the other hand, has a rigid rule forbidding union tile setters to work for any contractor not a member of the National Contractors' Association in good standing.

By this means the national association, witnesses were forced to admit to the committee, was able to control every contractor in the country through territorial and local associations, and to compel obedience to its "Code of Practice" and to regulations eliminating "wasteful competition" to the manifest disadvantage of the householder.

Before going into the tile trade situation Mr. Untermyer commented on the statement published yesterday by Assistant District Attorney Banton, in charge of Mr. Swann's office while his chief is on a honeymoon trip, discrediting the Committee's demand for a change in the Donnelly said so that its violators cannot escape prison sentences. Mr. Untermyer said:

"I note that after more than seven years in office the District Attorney, through the Acting District Attorney, has become aware that there is such a thing as an anti-trust law in this State. He is reported to have awakened from his official slumbers long enough to criticize this committee by recommending the amendment of the Donnelly Act so as to make prison sentences compulsory for violations of that law and has given out an interview to that effect."

"One would imagine that under the circumstances he would have the discretion to hold his peace. The business of his office is to enforce the law, not to instruct this committee."
